The RJ11s would be for the phone system which is UMass. Do we know if the RJ45s were installed specifically for Chris? If they just connect to the UMass network she won't be able to use them. If they were installed for her they may have run the cables down to the DPH switch, in which case we just need to patch it through.

The drops are already in the office – just not functioning. RJ 45s and RJ11s

Chris,

UMass (or someone) will need to run a couple of cable drops from the server area in Jim's space to your new space. I'm not sure who pays for this or how. Jim, any ideas?

Eric,
I was upstairs in my new office space and plugged my laptop into the wall. It was not functioning. What can we do to get it on line with the Boston server? All the plugs need to function. One will be for a copier, printer, fax, scanner unit. I will be moving up there soon.

Thanks,
